8. Mini Grant Request from Student Athletic Advisory Committee

Taylor Powell: Hello everyone! I am the Co-President of SAAC.

Chris Fludd-Clark: I am co secretary and our goal as saac members is to get saac members and student athletes more involved on campus and in events community wide. As athletes, we have competitive drive to compete for something instead of doing it just to do it. We ask for this mini grant because we are starting this student organization from saac with no money. We want t shirts for our saac members and want our presence here on campus. We want to have events, we have interest in partnering with you guys and getting involved. We have a 5K event planned in the spring.

Question answer

Senator Kenny: what is your budget what are you asking for

Taylor: put in for 300 dollars but we would very much appreciate anything we could get. We could supply people to come volunteer for your events as well.

14. BSO Report

Hannah medford: at our meeting last week, we mostly talked about homecoming, we also talked about updating website with all of clubs that are currently active and getting updated information for all of them. Club drop in went well, and we are telling everyone about the spring formal

15. Advisor Report

Dean carter: you should be getting POP a few moments ago. We have baseball game against citadel this weekend, volleyball games,. There is a dining survey listed, if you want to make changes here is your chance. 150 dollars gift card for csu people. Voting for homecoming you will get a special email about that on wednesday. You can vote one time online and system is set up to get the word out on that

Cold and flue season is coming around here. We have a partnership with trident health across the street. For 65 dollars flat rate they will do a check up for you. Its cheaper than going to a doctor. We have been advertising it for a while

Last but not least, you have probably seen the email about mandatory title IX training course online that every csu student needs to do before seeing end of semester grades. Faculty and staff need to be trained in title IX and it is an important requirement

1. SGA were the ones who started its on us campaign and you will find cool links on time. We have a responsibility to step up and say something. We have cases that could have been solved quickly if someone had just stood up and said something. We don't tolerate on that campus
2. The hardest person to lead is not the title ix violator but the leader themselves. We set the temperature on campus. Thank you for what you already do on campus.

You will be hearing more about the updated prayer meeting. Board of trustee meeting on tuesday, and on tuesday, our sga officers will be part of that meeting. Last year, SGA had a critical say in the university in several aspects, and this year they will be there as well to speak to the trustees as needed. Any questions- you know where to find me have a great week

16. Questions/Comments/Concerns

Dominy: idk if you guys know, but a tragedy occurred on campus today. Carter ran out of bus dollars today. I started a twitter campaign for him so hit a retweet so ten dollars will be given toward him per retweet. Secondly i have one question on title IV training. Obviously we haven't really heard about this. It was good, but is the timing due to the situation on campus last year or a federal mandate

Dean: federal mandate. Last year (listen to recording)

Krogh: personnel who have gone through intensive training exempt from the online survey

Dean: no. you learn some things online that are benegicial that you probably have not learned in detail today. You will know what thelaw of your specific state is because there is a link. It covers alcohol and drug abuse. If you know someone doing things along thoe lines, it will help you know what to look for and help them.

Jenny: im a little concerned with the new student forum date because it is right before the week of finals. Im worried about students actually being able to be there

Lauren: its the only date dr hunter can do it and its important that he can be there

Vp: we are having ronald mcdonald house on november 5th at end of fall events week and it is mandatory and tbd time. Prob in morning

Fall shnangians is next week, and so is scsl so be praying for people who will be represnting csu at scsl

Dominy: we are up to ten retweets and 100 dollars for josh carter
